Shop assistant: Good morning. Can I help you?

Vickie: Hello. Yes, please. I'm looking for a sweater.

Shop assistant: Come with me, please. Here you can find all our sweaters.

Vickie: Wow! So many colours!

Shop assistant: What colour do you want?

Vickie: Hm... Not orange, not pink... Yellow!

Shop assistant: What size?

Vickie: Large. I like baggy clothes.

Shop assistant: We have these two. One of them has stripes. I find them very pretty.

Vickie: Great! Can I try them on?

Shop assistant: Of course. The changing rooms are on the left.

Later...

Shop assistant: Do they fit?

Vickie: Yes, but I can only buy one, because I don't have enough money for both. I'll take the one with the stripes!

Shop assistant: Perfect. That's £48, please.

Vickie: Here you are.

Shop assistant: Here's your change. Thanks! Have a wonderful day and come back soon!

Vickie: Thank you! Bye!

Part III - Possible Answers:

On my last summer holidays, I went to Budapest. I stayed there for a week, with my parents and my grandparents. We travelled by plane and we were very lucky because the weather was fine the whole week. We stayed in a cosy hotel, near the city centre.

I ate lots of delicious typical Hungarian food. I also drank was juice made of all types of fresh fruit!

I visited lots of local monuments. My favourite was a memorial called Shoes on the Danube Bank.

There was nothing I didn't enjoy about Budapest and the thing I enjoyed the most was the local hospitality, because people are very kind and helpful.
