Train for sale!

When Lucy Roberts started looking for a house, she decided that she wanted something different. She finally found an unusual wooden building near a beach. Lucy looked inside and discovered that the building was an old train. 'There were lots of windows so the rooms were light,' she says. 'I loved it.'

Lucy bought the train and she's got big plans for it. It will have solar panels to make electricity from the sun and a roof made of grass. She won't use aluminium because she says that it isn't good for the environment. 'I want to show that you can build new homes with "green" materials,' says Lucy. 'If other people see that it isn't hard, they will probably copy my ideas.'
