Train for sale!

When Lucy Roberts started looking for a house, she knew she wanted something unusual. One day, Lucy saw a wooden building near the sea and when she looked inside, she discovered that it was an old train. She could see the original floors and ceiling, but it was in bad condition. Lucy still liked it and decided that she could convert it into a home. 'There were lots of windows so the rooms were very light,' she says. 'I fell in love with it.'

Lucy bought the train and has got big plans for it. 'It will be very warm,' she says. 'It will have solar panels to make electricity and a roof made of grass.' Lucy won't use aluminium because she says it's bad for the environment. 'I want to show people that it's possible to build new homes with "green" materials,' she says. 'If other people see that it isn't hard, they will probably copy my ideas.'

- 1 What kind of home did Lucy want to find?

- 2 What was the problem with the old train?

- 3 What did Lucy really like about the train?

- 4 What will generate electricity in Lucy's home?

- 5 What message does Lucy want to give to others?
