A biography of Robert Pattinson

Robert Pattinson was born in London in May 1986. He became famous when he first played Edward Cullen in Twilight.

Robert went to a private school, where he did a lot of sport. He liked PE and he also liked music. Between the ages of five and twelve, he played the guitar and he was good at it. His favourite teacher was his English teacher. He wrote very long essays for her.

When Robert was fifteen, he started acting in the Barnes Theatre Club. He soon found acting work. In late 2003, he got the part of Cedric Diggory in Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire. Some years after that, he started playing the guitar again. He also started writing music and composed the music for Twilight.

After the success of the first Twilight film, Robert Pattinson played the artist Dalí in a film about his life. He moved to Los Angeles in 2008, before he started work on the Breaking Dawn films.
